MARY WRIGHT TRIUMPHS

MAKING ample amends for her shortcomings in last season's European Championships at Wembly, Mary Wright deservedly won the women's single title of the English Open at Brighton on March 2-4 and in so doing gladdened English hearts with a fighting display.

Mary's was to be the only senior title to be witheld from a strong foreign entry in which Jaroslav Stanek of Czechoslovakia cruised his way to success in the men's singles, last won by a compatriot in season 1946-7 when Tereba succeeded Bo Vana.

It was Stanek, again with Vladimir Miko, who retained the men's doubles with a further Czech retention in the mixed by Miko and Marta

By her marriage to West Germany's Eberhard Scholer, the partnership of Di Rowe with Mary Shannon-Wright was dissolved and the undefended women's doubles title was won by Maria Alexandru and Eleonora Mihalca of Rumania.

England regained the junior boys' singles-last won by Brian Hill of Lincolnshire in 1961-62-when Keith Lawrence got a tight verdict over Trevor Taylor after the challenge from Australia and Ireland had been withstood.

In the boys' doubles another home victory ensued, for Paul Judd and Derek Munt, as it did in the mixed event for Lawrence and Linda Henwood.

The presence of Yugoslavia's 14-year-old Mirjana Resler boded ill in the girls' singles event, which she won, but it was an "ill wind" for

Marjorie Walker who, with Miss Resler romped to a girls' doubles

Harry Venner took leave of his young Australian charges long enough to retain his men's veteran title-for the third consecutive time -but a new name in Marjorie Cumberbatch went into the record book for the women's counterpart event.

Consolation singles were won by Yugoslavia's Z. Cordas and Miss HUNGARY 3, Czechoslovakia 1. Resler.

MADE TO FIGHT

Both in her penultimate set and in the final, Mary Wright stood 2-1 down against the resolute "pushing" of European champion, Mrs. Alexandru, and Eva Koczian. But determination carried the English champion through to success, first against the Rumanian, who led 5-1 in the fourth game only to create the spur for Mary to come back with nine successive points!

Again in the final Hungary's Eva Koczian led 13-11 in the fourth only for Mary to counter with a run of seven points

Not to be overlooked, in this star-spangled event, were the deeds of 16-year-old Karenza Smithsurely to be destined for stardom herself-who started out with two 3-straight wins over Linda Henwood and Gloria Sayer. The pattern was again repeated in the third round but this time it was Eleonora Mihalca who was ousted

What then, however, are the prospects of Judy Heaps who, in the semi-finals of the girls' singles, accounted for Karenza 19 and 17?

Both Judy and Karenza fell to Eva Koczian in successive rounds of the women's and it was also the Hungarian No. 1 who knocked out the holder, Marta Luzova.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA 3, West young Australian team and England II scored a nice win over Netherlands.

Round two saw Karenza Smith score perhaps her most important win. Against Rumania, Mary Wright lost the first to a vastly improved Mihalca and trailed most of the way in the second, but a couple of courageous hits took it. At 2-7 down in the third, we feared the worst but Mary kept fighting to 15-all and a couple of quick hits and Mihalca was broken. Karenza played a gallant but losing game against Alexandru and oh! what a disaster as we lost the doubles. Mary then comfortably beat Alexandru after letting the second slip, and left Karenza to play the game of her life. Losing the first but then moving Mihalca about, dropping and hitting to go 18-12 in the third. It became 18-16 but we won at 17. Karenza can go far !

In the meantime, England II lost to Czechoslovakia 1-3 with Luzova Pauline Hemmings dominant. played excellently to beat Pauknerova.

So to the semis, where Czechoslovakia rather surprisingly beat West Germany with Di (Rowe) Schöler winning the only one. England lost to Hungary 2-3 but what an incredible match with 4 out of 5 going to three. Karenza fell to the experience of Koczian Czechoslo and Mary all but lost to Jurik. It seemed that our girls would be worn down in the doubles but we

REQUEST GRANTED

MAY I please use your columns to express the sincere thanks of my wife and I to the many officials and players who got together at Brighton to make such a generous presentation to us on the occasion of our Silver Wedding anniversary and of my 50th birthday.

It was a really wonderful gesture and we appreciate it very much.

The English Open usually puts years on me but on this occasion I returned home feeling ten years younger.

from 15-19 in the third

Now a big disappointment as Koc-zian, who never beats Mary, recovered from a game down and 14-17, to take the second to 18 and go to 11-4. Mary is a fighter and with practically all her remaining energy actually led 13-12 but had become so tired with this third in a row three-setter that she lost 17-21. Karenza again put up a wonderful show against Juirk but the defender was phenomenal and turned winning hits into tricky Hungary went through the formality of winning the final and even Luzova lost to Koczian.

Now to the men, where Warren and Gibbs were not unduly troubled by Australia and England II won 3-0, only to lose convincingly to Czechoslovakia in the next round. England I beat Nigeria 3-0 and Hungary beat the much fancied Yugoslavs 3-2 from 0-2 down. Hungary had previously beaten Scotland 3-0. In the semis, Czechoslovakia were extended by West Germany where surprisingly Ness beat Stanek and Germany won the doubles, whilst Hungary beat England I 3-1. England won only the doubles but what a different story it might have been had Chester Barnes not lost to Rozsas

Czechoslovakia won the final with Stanek brilliant and Miko

THE LATECOMER

EAR on in the period of time between the distribution of entry forms and the commencement of a tournament a knock at the door, a ring of the phone bell, or a letter, will herald the latecomer's application.

As often as not the request is held back until the day itself and the organiser's attention craftily drawn to the fact that such-and-such a person will not be coming or that so-and-so would not mind foregoing the bye for the sake of having a preliminary or first round warm-up.

All manner of excuses are trotted out as to why the closing date was disregraded and these, duly referenced in handbook form, could well be quoted as the basis for negotiation without pre-

Should such an application be refused then, oh dear me, what a "shower" the organising secretary is! Never again would the applicant remotely consider gracing the tournament and last season's affair left a great deal to be desired !

Oh yes, like Al Read, you have met 'em, and although their numbers are not legion they are of sufficient strength to warrant an appendix to the aforementioned handbook

Granted there are times when reasons afforded are valid and a sympathetic ear is given, but mostly they are not, being due to sheer idleness or that loathing to part with money which would appear to be an occupational disease of the table tennis player.

It was ever thus, in the words of Robert Burns, that "The best laid schemes o' mice an' men Gang aft a-gley" and so it is with tournament organisers.

Late requests have little regard for all the work that has gone into the organisation of a tournament, still less for the hours spent in conducting the draw-so, if you are a latecomer, be not offended if your eleventh-hour plea for entry is refused.

Make a resolution, there and then, to note well the closing date of the next and act well in advance of it. The organisers have, so why not you ?

INTERNATIONAL ROUND-UP

By CONRAD JASCHKE

Hon. International Secretary of the E.T.T.A.

AT the recent meeting of the Home Country Associations at the Municipal Buildings in Preston there was much discussion about the future of the Quadrangular International Tournament. It is very likely that this event will be partially duplicated by a regional division of the new European League. However, it was decided to hold the Quadrangular once more, and it will be Ireland's turn to stage the event next season.

The National Council have already decided to enter an England team in the Premier Division of the European League next season, and Wales have decided to enter the relevant Regional Division. Both Ireland and Scotland would like to enter but cannot yet come to a firm decision because of insufficient finance. Should they be able to overcome this problem, then it is very likely that a Regional Division would be formed consisting of Ireland, Scotland and Wales, plus probably Belgium and Netherlands. Jersey and Guernsey would also be eligible for such a region, but again finance would be the problem.

All these questions will be fully discussed when the European Table Tennis Union have a meeting in Stockholm during the World Championships.

BELGIUM EXCHANGE VISITS

Entry in the European League does not mean that we have to forego encounters with our friends in countries who have not achieved a place in the Premier Division. On the contrary, if European League matches bring the extra income which is anticipated, it should enable us to extend our programme and give more and more young players an opportunity to represent England in matches against the not quite so strong European Associations. We have already accepted an invitation to play Belgium during the British week in Brussells in October 1967. A sponsor has been found and no costs will fall on the E.T.T.A.

We, on our part, have invited the Belgians to visit us in March 1968 and play a match at Ashford (Kent) on the occasion of the 21st Anniversary of

We have also accepted an invitation—all expenses paid—to play a series of matches in Germany (D.T.T.B.) early next season.

Following the success-financial and otherwise-of the Czech tour of England early this season, we shall try to arrange a similar tour of a top continental side in October or early November of this year. Many applications to such matches are already on hand,

ANYONE FOR BULGARIA?

A Bulgarian Table Tennis club would like to arrange exchange visits with an English club, on the basis that each team pay their own travelling expenses, with the home team paying hospitality expenses for several days. The Bulgarians are interested in an all ladies side, and they would like the first match to be this summer.

A journey to Bulgaria would be a very interesting experience, but it is likely to be costly. However, it may be possible to arrange exhibitions which could recover some of the expenses. If any club in England is interested in this proposition they may write direct to:-

The club is:— F. D. "Levsky" Cul—Rakovsky "68 Sofia BULGARIA

Miss Nadya Ivanova Sofia 12 Lagera, Lel F.K.S. I BULGARIA

Final details would have to be sanctioned by the Bulgarian and the English Table Tennis Associations, but this is a formality in this particular

There is, of course, a thriving European club knock-out competition as well as an inter-Cities Fairs Cup. Unfortunately we have been unable to enter either of these events because of the expense involved. It is hoped that sooner or later ways will be found to raise the necessary money through sponsorship to enter these competitions.

NEW ZEALAND TOUR

The tour by the New Zealand World Championships team has now been finalised and the details are given below. Although we are unable to stage an international match against the tourists, we would like to extend to them every possible courtesy and help, and I hope that some members of the National Council might take the opportunity of extending hospitality when the New Zealanders are in their area. If you would like to do this, please contact the relevant match organisers whose names and addresses are listed.

Consisting of five men and four women, the New Zealand team whose names and ranking order follow will have Ken Wilkinson (46 Beauchamp Street, Linden-Tawa) as their team manager.

GLOUCESTER v L.C.S. TIE TO PROVIDE THE WINNERS

THE Wilmott Cup quarter-finalists | Quarter-final Draw have a familiar look. Bolton, Manchester, Gloucester and Willesden have all been there before!

But who are these interlopers who. now up with the leaders, were knocked out in the first round last season? Their team comprises Buist, Gibbs and Piddock and they represent London Civil Service. In their previous rounds they have included East London among their victims. Their next match, against the holders, could provide the 1967 winners of the Cup.

I expect George Yates of Bolton and Laurie Landry of Willesden would dispute this but we must wait and see.

In the Rose Bowl competition Doncaster fairly easily disposed of gallant Stockport but not before Mrs. Diane Johnson had beaten both Pat Dainty and Lesley Proudlock.

In what must have been a most exciting match East London beat Romford—last season's winners—by Quarter-final Results the odd set.

This winning game was won by Miss Martin against Miss Hession 18, 19. I see that Pam Mortimer is still winning. Againt Staines she helped Plymouth into the quarter-finals by capturing three sets.

Sutton ladies went to town with their opponents. 12 was the highest score gained against them. This team of Mrs. Head, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Bird look very strong.

Carter Cup-East London, the only narrowly defeated Both Lawrence and F. Slough. Cennedy had to work hard to beat Slough's team spearheaded by Michael Wald. This season's Birmingham team of Judd, Munt, Glynn and Clarke look very good and will need some beating.

Bromfield Trophy—I was informed that the Watford v Birmingham encounter was most enjoyable. The result card certainly supports this view as the match was not won until the eighth set, when Miss Hassan just managed to beat Miss Unsworth in the

SIXTH TITLE FOR MAUREEN

MAIN surprise at the Midland Open, played at Solihull, Birmingham on February 11, was the defeat of Lesley Radiord by Maureen Heppell, ranked three places below her. It was Maureen's sixth women's singles title of the season.

Trevor Taylor was outstanding in the men's events getting to the semiof the singles with wins over Keith Lawrence and Roger Hampson. Trevor repeated the victory over Lawrence in the boys' final, this time in straight games.

Lawrence was somewhat fortunate to come through from 18-20 down in the third with the help of an edge ball against unranked Michael Coles (Staffs). Ralph Gunnion ended Taylor's fine run in the semi whilst Taylor also accompanied his Junior Captain to the semi of the men's Roger Chandler won the men's singles with a final win over equally ranked Gunnion with the result that the equal ranking seemed to appear justified. The holder, Roy Morley, who had a tremendous win the previous year, went out rather un-gloriously to Lawrence who makes a habit of beating him.

Chandler overcame, at last, his fellow Dunlop employee Mike Johns to whom he has always lost this

A great pity that Judy Heaps was unable to stay for the final of the girl's singles against Miss Heppell to whom she had to concede a walk-over.

KENT OPEN

by Laurie Landry

Young Players Dominate

YOUNG players certainly dominated the two main singles finals at the Kent Open played at Folkestone on January 28-29. The four players concerned were Stuart Gibbs and Alan (Scotland) bt H. Buist (Kent)/Piddock Kent Open played at Folkestone on January 28-29. The four players con-cerned were Stuart Gibbs and Alan Hydes, aged 19 and 18, and Karenza Smith and Pauline Hemmings 16 and 18-year-old respectively.

Hydes, after saving five match points against Junior Captain, Laurie Landry, went through Kent players Derek Basden and Tony Piddock in straight games before losing to Gibbs in a well fought final after Gibbs had beaten Brian Wright in the semis.

Earlier surprise in the men's singles was the defeat of No. 7 ranked "Les" Haslam by Alan Ransome who then lost to Piddock. Hydes saved match points against Barry Hill of Surrey in the under-20 event and then went on to win it. Gibbs had eliminated himself by contriving a loss to Ron Penfold who failed to progress beyond the next round.

Karenza Smith won the women's singles beating Pauline Hemmings in the final. Pauline tried to rush things too much and fought a losing battle. This was a pity as she had played very well to defeat Lesley Radford for the first time in the semi.

Surprising mixed doubles finalists were Elsie Carrington and Trevor Taylor who had beaten Brian Wright and Miss Hemmings and Roy Morley and Pauline Martin. Their beaten opponents in the final were also somewhat surprising as they were " partner wanted" applicants Landry and Miss Smith. They beat Ralph Gunnion and Mrs. Radford.

SOUTH YORKSHIRE OFEN SYMONDS BACK ON TARGET

PLAYED at the Edmund Road Drill Hall, Sheffield on Feb 4, the South Yorks Open attracted a much stronger entry than at Pontefract the previous weekend.

Through to the final again Brian Burn, after seeing off once more his county colleague Stuart Lennie, just failed to make it in a titanic struggle with Mike Symonds.

Derbyshire's Sandra Pegg also made good progress for the second Satur-day running but her gallop this time was stopped by Yorkshire County player Cynthia Duncombe who subsequently went under, in the final, to Lesley Proudlock.

Having struck up an admirable partnership with Alan Hydes, Burn was there for the men's doubles and Hydes later figured in a mixed title win with Mrs. Duncombe.

Linda Forkes won her second consecutive junior girls' title adding the scalp of Lancashire's Susan Lisle to that of Eileen Samson of the week

Having to scratch himself from the Pontefract affair, Birmingham's Derek Munt made amends by taking the junior boys with a good win over Bolton's Brian Mitchell. Final: CREAMER/SUGDEN bt

YORKSHIRE OPEN by Walter Mitton WORLD SQUAD HARD PRESSED

THE Yorkshire Open, played at the York Railway Institute on Feb 18, attracted an entry which was not only large but contained most of the ranked players including Sweden-bound Denis Neale, Stuart Gibbs, Mary Wright, Karenza Smith and Maureen Heppell.

In the early rounds it looked as if the wait for the announcement of the teams for Stockholm was having its effect especially in the case of Neale who lost to Mike Dainty of Doncaster -16, 19, -16 who eventually went out to Tony Piddock in the quarters.

Gibbs, after a somewhat shaky start, recovered to play some really good table tennis ousting such opposition as George Livesey, Eric Hall, Peter Williams and Brian Wright before accounting for Piddock in the final after three attempts in a row.

Mary Wright won the women's title after Pauline Hemmings had taken the middle game and had previously beaten Miss Smith in the semis. A much improved Diana Simpson beat Miss Heppell and Beverley Sayer before falling to Mrs.

PRAGUE DOUBLE FOR SWEDES

the most prominent feature of the Czechoslovakian Championships held in Prague from January 30—February

Kjell Johansson won the men's singles for the third successive time beating Jaroslav Stanek in the final 3-0. Kunz of Czechoslovakia was the only man to extend Johansson to five games but Corbizan of Rumania caused the biggest upset by beating the No. 3 seed, Vladimir Miko, 3-1 in the second round.

A new face to the table tennis scene was M. Beleznai of Hungary who reached the semi-final before falling Denis Neale, our sole representative in this event, had an easy win over Turay, a Czech, in Round I then lost to an on-form Antonin Dvorak, who readers may remember touring with the Czech team last October.

In the women's singles, Zoya Rudnova hit top form, and dropped only two games to win the title for the first time. After disposing of Vostova and Karlikova, she played England's Mary Wright in the quarter-final. After Mary had won the first game at deuce, Rudnova's devastating fore-hands carried her through the next three games, and Mary never looked like winning. The Russian girl "sailed" through Alexandru 3-0 and Jurik 3-0 to win the title.

Maureen Heppell was never happy against the hard-hitting Simakova of Czechoslovakia and went down 3-1 after winning the first game.

In the men's doubles, Neale teamed up with Harczar of Hungary and they were unlucky to lose to Alser and Johansson, the eventual winners, after leading 2-1 and 18-17.

The women's doubles was the Czechs only title. Marta Luzova and Karlikova completely outclassed the East German pair in the final. Mary Wright and Maureen Heppell lost in the quarters to the steadier combination. tion of Simon and Buchholz

SECOND TITLE FOR RUDNOVA

Sweden and Russia again took the singles titles in East Germany repeat-ing their Prague successes. A very well organised tournament was played in Arfurt from February 3-5 and was rounded off with International matches England versus East Germany.

The first day was taken up with team events. Due to unfortunate circumstances (an injury to Alser), Sweden were robbed of an all Swedish men's team final. Sweden's second team of C. Johansson and K. Bernhardt reached the final but lost 3-0 to Yugoslavia's Istvan Korpa and Dragutin Surbek.

A composite team comprising Neale of England and young Anton Stipancic of Yugoslavia just failed to reach the semi-final stage by one game, despite beating Rumania 3-1, in which match Neale had a good win over Radu Negulescu.

In the women's team event England, after beating Bulgaria 3-0, lost to East Germany 2-3 losing the vital doubles in the third game. Rumania had a good 3-2 win over Hungary in the final, Alexandru winning two singles.

INDIVIDUALS

The men's singles went much according to plan with three of the four seeds reaching the semi-final. Only Amelin, conqueror of Neale, failed to reach a semi losing to Peter Rozsas 3-2 in the quarters. Beleznai, team event success, but was shown who was boss by Hans Alser. "Connie" Warren, unfortunate to be drawn against Kjell Johansson in the first round, gave a good account of himself losing 3-1 and pulling up in the 4th game from 11-20 to 18-20.

The final was a disappointing affair with Alser chalking up a rare 3-1 win over his teammate Johansson who had looked invincible in the semi when disposing of Dorin Giurgiuca 17, 16 and 6!

A second title for Rudnova in the women's singles where she swept through to the final without losing a game. En route she disposed of Heppell, Richter, Alexandru and Calinska. Maureen had no answer to the quick angled hitting of the Russian girl.

In the other half Mary Wright came through after surviving a 1st round fright, being 2-0 down to an East German qualifier, Stiebner. Having survived this she, in turn, beat Resler, Strauss and Hovestadt (conqueror of Eva Koczian) all 3-0.

Although Mary won the first game, in the final, she was always struggling against the penetrating angled forehands of Rudnova. The second game was the turning point in which Mary had led all the way but just could not quite clinch it.

Russia gained a second title in the mixed doubles Amelin/Rudnova beat-ing Chmelik/Vostova in the final. Warren and Mary Wright looked all set to reach the semi when leading 2-0 and 15-9 against Chmelik/Vostova, but the 3rd game slipped away, and from then on the Czechs seemed to find a second wind. Neale and Maureen Heppell failed to reach the 2nd round losing a close set to Beschowischi/Hristova of Bulgaria

In the men's doubles, the scratch pairing of Chmelik/Sarkhojan came through from the qualifying competi-tion to cause the biggest shock of the Championships, beating Alser and Johansson 3-0 in the final.

Neale and Warren fell to the winners in the 1st round.

The women's doubles saw Maureen and Mary fight back from 0-2 down to beat the Polish girls Noworyta/ Calinska, only to lose in the quarters to the East Germans Richter/Strauss.

AN HONOURABLE DRAW

In the small town of Schmalkalden, the English team were welcomed with open arms by a very keen group of organisers and given the time of their lives. Laden with presents, flowers, food and drink England won the women's match 3-1, but lost the men's match 1-3.

The hall was packed to capacity by a very enthusiastic audience. The women's match was played first and East Germany got off to a good start with their No. I Doris Hovestadt confidently beating a rather nervous Maureen Heppell.

Maureen was never allowed to settle down and play her own game. Mary then convincingly beat Gabriele Geissler to level then came the very important doubles, the set England had lost in the team event at Erfurt.

Mary and Maureen won 2-0, both hitting well and playing very confi-dently. Mary then repeated her East German Open success over Hovestadt to win the match.

In the men's match Warren was unlucky in his opening singles losing 2-1 in a very hard-fought set to Wolf-gang Stein. "Connie" had trouble in dealing with Stein's consistent left hand loop drive. Neale then had a very close set with Siegfried Lemke, E. German No. 1.

After sharing the first two games, Neale led 10-8 in the 3rd but for some unaccountable reason he lost the next 8 points to be 10-16 down. From then on, although fighting back, Lemke kept his lead for the set.

Though the boys teamed up well to win the doubles, Warren was never happy in his second singles against the chops, floats and fantastic retrieving of the agile Lemke.

A wonderful reception after the matches rounded off a very pleasant stay in Schmalkalden.

THE NEW DEPUTY CHAIRMAN

by The Editor

ADDITIONAL ROLE FOR CONRAD JASCHKE

SUCCEEDING Norman Reeve Deputy Chairman of the E.T.T.A., the new occupant of what is becoming regarded as the "hot seat" of national officialdom, is Conrad Jasche, whose election, following the resignation of the previous occupier, was announced on February 4.

Already working with the determina-tion of a fanatic in his capacity as Hon. International Secretary, one cannot but admire the tremendous energy that has been put in this season by this naturalised Englishman who was born in Vienna, 43 years ago, but has lived in this country all his adult life.

As the Export Manager of Linguaphone Institute, and a Corporate Member of the Institute of Export, the former being a British public Company with world-wide ramifications, the new Deputy Chairman is widely travelled both in Europe and on the continent of America. Sports have figured prominently in his recreational pursuits. Football, tennis, cricket, swimming and mountain climbing have all been sampled to varying degrees although his family background is a musical one. Indeed an uncle was conductor at the Hamburg Opera in pre-Hitler days.

His interest in table tennis commenced at the age of 11 when he started to play, as so many of Conrad's generation have done, on the dining room table. He became reasonably good in his late teens and early twenties but ceased regular league play because of mounting administrative duties. He plans to make a come-back in veteran events next season!

Secretary, Chairman and now President of the North West Kent League, Conrad has done his share in bringing that league up to being the biggest in Kent from very small beginnings.

Originally Kent Press Officer, then a spell of two years as County Secretary. Now in his ninth year as Kent Chairman with an ambition to make it ten before retiring. One of only three Kent Life Vice-Presidents-for exceptional service.

With the exception of a one-year break, the Deputy Chairman has been a member of the N.E.C./National Council of the E.T.T.A. since 1954 being Press Officer in the late 1950's and of him Leslie Woollard once wrote "he built the E.T.T.A a bridge to Fleet Street."

Has served on many sub-committees, but is most interested in coaching being currently Chairman of the National Schools and Coaching Committee who have broken much new ground since his appointment two years ago.

After his appointment as Organiser of the European Championships at Wembley—for which work, along with Norman Reeve and Colin Clemett, he was made an Hon. Life Member of the E.T.T.A.—Conrad negotiated the new arrangements which gave birth to TABLE TENNIS NEWS.

His position as Hon. International Secretary is one he would like to retain being mindful of the added weight his new designation gives him in his dealings with foreign associations. The logic of this is apparent when one considers that he was the first ever to be elected to the Executive Committee of the European Union—and for a 4-year term.

Undoubtedly Conrad Jaschke has a talent for hard work with punctuality and open mindedness figuring among his likes just as any kind of prejudice and people taking on jobs and then not doing the work they have undertaken incur his disfavour.

Never one to interfere in technical details, his belief is in always getting the best man for each job and letting the experts advise, meanwhile using his own abilities as administrator/organiser/negotiator for the full benefit of the

No great lover of the game itself, Brenda, his wife, who is employed as a civil servant in the Ministry of Defence being just as vivacious now as she was when she married Conrad 18 years ago, has been of great help to Conrad in meeting his many commitments.

ROY MORLEY

BY PHILIP REID

the tournament circuit than others, but there can be very few who are seen at more tournaments than Gloucester's Roy Morley. Roy was introduced to the game about 1954 by Bryan Merrett at a club which has produced so many fine players—The Gordon League. Merrett was quick to spot the potential in Morley and six months later Roy made his deput in the Gloucester League—in the first division! In the whole of his career he has never leaved in any division except the first played in any division except the first in Gloucester.

The Gloucestershire selectors were not slow to notice the new star in their midst and in his first season he played for the County Senior team. Honours were coming to Roy quickly but he showed a level head and an aptitude to raise his game against stronger opposition. This facility held him in good stead when, in his second season, he was capped for the England Junior team. He played against Wales, Sweden and France. He turned in a succession of wine heating Malcolm succession of wins beating Malcolm Phillips (Wales), Gambier—still one of France's top players—and the whole of the Swedish Swaythling Cup team which consisted of Larsson, Petterson and Borg.

METEORIC

His improvement was meteoric and seemed nothing could stop him gaining an England cap at an early age. Yet, inexplicably Roy decided to retire from the game. From 1956 to 1960 Morley was lost to table tennis and when he returned he found it was not easy to get back in his stride. The advent of sandwich had changed the advent of sandwich had changed the game completely. It says much for Morley, however, that he stuck at his task and gradually his results began to improve. Indeed by the end of 1962 he had shown himself completely back to top class and he nearly caused a sensation at the English Open when he took the famous Hungarian, Fahazi to 21-18 in the fifth. to 21-18 in the fifth.

Roy has always played an attacking from the game but came back to reach game and usually his games are even greater heights.

SOME people are better known on amongst the spectacular ones at any the tournament circuit than tournament. When the "loop" stroke first came out Roy was not only one of the first to realise the value and potential of the stroke by fitting it into his armoury but also to spot the danger of it and he quickly adapted his game to cope with other users of the stroke.

For the last three seasons Gloucester have proved undisputed holders of the Wilmott Cup and their team has consisted of Ian Harrison, Bryan Merrett and Roy Morley. Although for a long time he has been the number three in this team (at one time Harrison and Merrett were ranked joint number one in England) his con-tribution has always been a big one.

INVINCIBLE

In the strong Midland Table Tennis League Morley has proved invincible over the past six seasons when he has been unbeaten. International Ralph Gunnion has been beaten by Roy on every occasion he has played him in this league. But despite his loyalty to Gloucester it is perhaps on the tourna-ment circuit that he is best-known,

Whereas some players shine at either singles or doubles, Roy seems to play equally well at either and has, in fact, had great success with various partners. Amongst his better wins has been the Men's Singles at the Irish Open. His current Men's Doubles partner is the Sussex left-hander Roger Chandler and against this pair no combination in England can be sure of victory. It says much for his stamina that after a gruelling day when he may have played a dozen sets or so he is able to turn on a great display of footwork

To his county Roy has been of inestimable value. He has always made himself available whenever he has been required. He has helped coach the youngsters (and Gloucester have several on the way up). For dedication to the game of table tennis there can be few better examples than Roy Morley — the man who retired

"Tapeworm" for "Clots"

"CLOTS" in the Bloodstream in February number of TABLE TENNIS NEWS raised a broad smile in NORFOLK! So much so, that it has been recorded on the portable tape recorder which is now in use to popularise the game and the Journal in deepest East Anglia. Martin Tidy, the Norfolk junior, became the first player to listen to the recording, and forthwith set the pace by subscribing to a Journal of his own! No "CLOT" he!

We congratulate Martin on taking the Boys' Singles, and Miss Pat Sutton on winning the Girls' event, at the Norfolk Education Committee's Youth Centre Championships at AYLSHAM. Tidy teamed with Bassett to secure the Boys' Doubles. Norfolk's Juniors thus proved their superiority against a large entry.

Full marks to Middlesex Juniors when they came to Norwich and just won an excellent match 6-4. The penultimate tie was the crucial one. It looked as if Philip Tye, when he took the first game off Gibson, might make it possible for Bassett to bring the final scores level. But Norfolk Juniors did better than ever before.

Another excellent match during was the East Anglian February League clash between Norwich and Lowestoft. The Youngs twins were in sparkling form, and Alan Coby clinched the nail for Lowestoft in a brilliant display against David Skedge, who improves each season. again!

A LTHOUGH beaten 6-4 by his Senior debut, 16-year-old Alan Durham at Sunderland, Cumber-land had some cause for satisfaction gaining a singles win over George gaining a singles win over George Sharp and combining with Sylvia Rycraft in a history making mixed doubles success over Malcolm Corking and Miss Brown. This is the first mixed doubles victory ever recorded by the county, and the two youngsters deserve every praise.

March, 1967

Ron Batty retained his Men's Singles title in the Whitehaven and District Closed Championships had to fight much harder than he has had to do in recent years, beating Jimmy Earl at 17 in the decider. Jimmy had a splendid tournament, knocking out County players Alan Dixon and Harry Bowman on his way to the final. Batty and Bowman won the Men's Doubles, and Wilcock and Bell the Junior doubles. Possibly the only shock result was the defeat of Wilcock in the Junior Singles final by his county team mate Tom Lowrey. The Handicap Singles, a new event, was won by "Tinker" Bell.

Next season's Cumberland Open will be held at the Grammar School, Workington, which the Cumberland Education Committee are allowing to be used free of charge.

Television Aid

THE value of television advertising has never been illustrated more fully than in a recent case involving the Cumberland County Association.

Worried by the fact that his only Junior girl was over the age limit for next season, County Secretary Ron Rigg hit on the idea of an appeal on television for Junior girls to come forward for coaching. Within two days of the broadcast of the Border News & Look Around programme, contact had been established with 18 girls all under the junior age-limit, and all willing to take part in coach-ing courses throughout the summer

Coaching has already started and two of the girls, 15-year-old Carol Wood and 13-year-old Iris Schwarzer, appear to be real "finds."

Sixteen of the girls attend Whitehaven Grammar School and all credit must be given to their sports mistress, Mrs. Armstrong.

After making every effort to regain his Premier team place, Derek achieved this when the selectors recalled him to travel to Cheshire for

There was considerable disappointment when the Juniors failed to hold Bucks in their deciding County match. But equally so, Bucks rightly deserved the honour to represent the division in the National play-off.

The selectors announced a revised ranking list after the finals, in which only four players will not be available for County selection next season. There are high hopes of regaining the divisional Championship next season with these quickly improving players.

The selectors have introduced three of the younger players into senior company: Graham French, Derek Corbett and Ruth Wilson.
Once again, Keith Clarke of Thanet has swept the board in a local tournament. In the Hythe Restricted Open he clearly beat all-comers in the men's singles and with Chris Laming (Canterbury) did so again in the men's doubles.

LEICESTERSHIRE NOTES by Philip Reid

Championships provided plenty Street Meths. of shocks but the prime title, the Men's Singles was won by Ernest McLeish who regained the trophy he lost last season. Rita Beith, as expected retained the Ladies' Singles and partnered Jose Rogers to take the Ladies' Doubles title.

Two titles each for "Chalky" White and Jose Rogers who played together in the Mixed Doubles and "Chalky" partnered Colin Truman to take the Men's Doubles. A change in the Veterans' Singles when Mike Long defeated holder for the past three seasons, Brian Pearn, in the final. The junior events had their share of shocks. Anil Sethi showed coolness and a sound defence to take the Junior Singles but Y.M.C.A. Tournament winners Ivor Billson & John Oxbrough took the Junior Doubles title. The Under 15 Singles provided another shock where Alastair Binnie beat Ivor Billson in a close final.

Leicestershire Juniors concluded their Junior (Midland) fixtures with a 10-0 win over Oxfordshire. Tony Branson fully justified his inclusion with two very good wins.

In the Leicestershire Town's League there were two shocks. Leicester "B" the league leaders lost to Lough-borough "A" where Roger Morley turned in a really top performance. Winners of the Junior Division since its inception, Loughborough lost to Hinckley 6-4 in a match which was notable for some great defensive play by an unbeaten P. Jennings.

The Rose Johnson Cup will this season be contested by Leicester Y.M.C.A. and Barwell Constitutional and a close game is expected. The sentative league teams, comprising three coulof flown.

A tournament organised by the local Boys' Clubs attracted an entry of over 60 and the winners were: Senior: D. Lewin (Blaby). Intermediates: R. Zarins (Oadby) and Juniors: S. Hayes (New Parks).

Leicester Y.M.C.A. I have taken the lead in Division 1 of the Leicester & District League following a fine win over Barwell Constitutional. Ernest McLeish, was undefeated and still maintains his 100% average in the league. King Richard's Road W.M.C. (Denis Smith, Derek Jones, Michael Granger) lead Divison 2A, while Division 3A is led by Nazarenes where Jimmy Mee is turning in some fine performances. Still 100% in 4A are Barwell Const. IV, who look certain of promotion.

Although there is no change in the Loughborough League, where Shepshed T.T.C. and Charnwood Foresters lead Divisions 1 and 2 by comfortable margins, there is a good fight going on in the third division where Baxter Gate B.B. lead.

Championship clash with North Shields Y.M.C.A. Leading 20-17 in the third Maureen squandered 5 points in succession for defeat and her side, Westonians, were beaten 9-3. But Maureen managed to emulate her father Len by defeating Joe McLeod, while Frank Mitchinson gained his best victory of the season over a lethargic Brian Burn. Stuart Lennie and Allcock captured three apiece, whereas Alan Ransome, the Westonians No. 1, had a nightmare match and Jean Golding two. and lost his three sets. Although the Inter-Town League is running more smoothly now under the eagle eye of Bill Hodgkins, there is much speculation as to its future. At a recent County Management meeting proposal from Hexham to increase the number of divisions was discussed.

It was generally felt that, by allowing areas to enter up to 3 teams and encouraging new sides to compete, a more progressive and interesting League would be created. However, many clubs might oppose this extension, in case it precipitated a clash of fixtures with the Northumber- KENT NOTES land League.

The Tyneside Closed tournament, held at Newcastle University, was again well run by the students. Stuart Lennie added the Men's Singles cup to his collection, avenging previous defeats by Brian Burn in the final.

Durham County player, Colin

Eltringham, who represents Woodlands Park was in excellent form, and submitted in the semi-final to Burn only after a tight 3-ender. Other winners were: Women's Singles: Phil Clark, Men's Doubles: Burn/Lennie. Doubles: Lennie/Miss Consolation Singles: Mixed Chape. C Mitchinson.

SOUTH-EAST MIDLANDS LEAGUE

By Leslie Constable

SINCE writing my notes in last month's issue, North Herts have asserted themselves in all sections of the league and can bring off a creditable quartet of victories by gaining the championship title of each division.

They beat Northampton 7-3 in the Men's section and so disposed of the champions in no uncertain manner but then they had somewhat of a setback when held to a draw by Cambridge City. Even so I feel they will win the division handsomely.

In the Ladies' section they are supreme and I cannot see any team stopping them with all challengers

Again in the Junior section, North Herts have become prominent having beaten Cambridge City (the champions for the past three seasons), although Cambridge were without Ken Muhr who was competing in the Hull Open.

Veteranwise too, North Herts (with matches in hand) look favourites.

NOTES FROM THE WEST

by Onlooker

Hopes Dashed

PLYMOUTH'S hopes of winning both the Men's and Ladies' divi-sions of the Western League were finally dashed when the men were beaten by Weston-Super-Mare 5-4. It was left to the ladies to redeem the town's honour by excellent victories over Weston and Newport, both by 7-2, and a fine win over Staines in the Rose Bowl 6-3.

The Exeter Junior Open was, as usual, well supported and, thanks to the good organisation of Kath LeMilliere, there were no hitches. Most of the events were dominated by Plymouth players, and the preponder ance of bright red shirts in the finals brought the comment "Even Mao's Red Guard has nothing on these." Surprise packet of the whole tournament was 9-year-old Keith James who, taking advantage of a good "draw" fought his way to the semi-final of the under-17 event where he went under, two straight, to Terry Parkins. The other semi-final of this event was also James v Parkins, where Bob Parkins, a hot favourite to retain his crown, got the better of his opponent after a very shaky start. In the final, despite playing probably as well as he has ever done, Terry lost to brother Bob, which meant that he had appeared in three finals, without being able to capture a title.

In the under-15's, he lost to Dave James, in a three set battle, after dis-playing some of the best counter hit-ting seen all day, while in the boys doubles, he and James had to give best to the holders, brother Bob and John Turner. In the girls events, Pat Williams seemed in a class of her own and carried off three titles, the singles and mixed doubles, which she had held previously, and, finding a steady partner in newcomer Diane Pentecost, the girls doubles as well.

The standard of play in the under-15 girls was not particularly high, but the winner, Susan Wannell of Exeter, showed a good variation of shots.

In the Exeter Junior singles, held in conjunction with the Open, more fine play was observed. The final of the boys' singles was particularly good. The winner, Brian Puttland, gave a fine display of temperament. Finding himself a game and 15-10 down, he refused to get rattled and after taking the second game, the issue was never

WARWICKSHIRE NOTES by Roger Morris Semi-Finals Once Again

FOR the second year running clinch the championships. The county semi-finals of both the Bromfield in their last match at home to Trophy and Carter Cup competitions. Lancashire II. The boys had a sweeping win over Middlesbrough even though they were without the services of Paul Judd. Roger Clarke ably deputised. Against Watford the girls Jenny Cornock, Yildez Hassan and Susan Clarke produced another 5-4 win mainly due to Jenny who had a treble success with one each from her colleagues.

The coaching course held earlier in the month at Lilleshall showed that we have a wealth of talent among the junior girls and it should only be a matter of two seasons before some of them reach the same high ranking as the boys. Indeed, Miss Cornock should be in this category next season.

The county are channelling a great deal of effort into the production of top-class women players, a section of the game in which Warwicks have always been very strong. The girls have something to aim at to achieve the standard set by Ann Haydon Jones, Doreen Griffiths, Barbara Carless, Pam Mortimer and Jean Mackay

Ralph Gunnion, Derek Backhouse and Paul Judd trounced Oxford 8-1 in the Wilmott but in the county the main interest now will be in the final two matches against Staffordshire when the First and Junior teams meet, both needing no more than a draw to Stratford

Birmingham have reached the second team are in a similar position

Due to a clash with two Junior the match against Staffordshire has had to be re-arranged as Brian Keates s also engaged. Never before has the Midland area produced three junior boys of international calibre in one season, and Pat Glynn too has been desperately unlucky to have missed out.

SUSSEX NOTES by John Woodford

Congestion Causes Casualty

CONGESTION of fixtures in Sussex has almost reached the stage where it is necessary to start a waiting list for the services of the leading players. With Sussex fighting hard for the right to challenge for the premier division and the Brighton and Eastbourne Wilmott and Rose Bowl teams (respectively) reaching the national quarter-finals, not to mention Open tournaments nearly every week-end, something has had to go. First casualty is the Sussex inter-club event which has been abandoned and a similar fate

Coaches Increase

ACK CARRINGTON returned to Winchester with a follow-up Coaches Study mainly for Southampton student coaches and later conducted a similar session at the new Portsmouth centre at Wimbledon Park. The development of this centre has been mainly due to the combined work of Eddy and Daphine Grey.

Southampton was the venue for the first meeting of Hants coaches which provoked lively discussion under the Chairmanship of County Team Manager Ray Yates. The number of qualified coaches has risen from 2 in 1961, to 18 as of now.

SOUTHAMPTON OPEN

Don Cartridge, school teacher/coach of the Brook T.T. Centre, dominated this popular tournament for the fifth time and, with Tony Ward, also took the men's doubles.

The former Holes twins, Christine Davies and Pauline Edwards, recovered their doubles title from Angeline Mills and June Williams; and Ray Yates, with his vicious pen-holder attack retained the veteran singles title against R. Bell.

New to the tournament, an inter-mediate event was won by R. Meyer against G. Harris. David and Christine Davies retained their mixed title over John Tibbles and June Williams.

The match winning prowess of 4-years-old Stuart Tannahill received a severe set-back when contested by Chris Shetler, the No. 4 seed, who ran out the surprise winner in straight Trophies were presented by South-ampton and Welsh international centre-forward Ron Davies.

Miss S. Franklin (Hastings) Mrs. P. Wales (Worthing) 10.

Miss J. Baynard (Brighton) Mrs. G. Bailey (Bognor)

Results in various events suggest that Robin Pierce is fortunate to be retaining his No. 5 spot. The Worthing champion, Pat Metters, is regarded as the most improved player in the county following a win over Ogundipe and he is unlucky to be as low as No. 10. The Hastings champion, Margaret Beaney, has got ahead of her rival Joyce Sheppard and recently recorded her first win over the No. 2, Ann Woodford, but Miss Beaney is off to Australia for ten months shortly.

WELSH CORNER

by Roy Evans

WITH the "Quadrangular" now a poorly in the final after looking quite dismal memory, the Welsh dragon good. has more than a few wounds to lick. It's true we went to Preston with the wooden spoon in our possession and more than half an idea we would be carrying it back, but we did expect to do better than this.

One might well ask what right we had to suppose our results would be better, for indeed the Welsh Closed did little to suggest that our men would be world beaters yet. On the other hand, our women looked to be in reasonable form, and with some events from them against Ireland and Scotland, we might just scrape a few men's results to bring victory or at worst a draw with either one or the Whilst one hesitates to criticise too severely, it must be true to say that neither Margaret Phillips nor Sandra Morgan produced the form which would have given us a chance.

Amongst the men, Jeff Spencer played as well as he could, but at no time did he look as if he had the measure of his opponents.

Graham Davies and Haydn Thomas played well enough in patches to suggest that at long last we've got real talent in these two. Admittedly they found the speed of the game faster than they experience in Wales, and admittedly they made mistakes, but it was more important that they made mistakes playing really good table tennis, and significant that our opponents, the English in particular, were impressed by the potential ability we had at last unearthed.

Together in doubles they played extremely well, against Harrison and Warren, to extend the English pair, and against Caffrey and Langan, to whilst Haydn Thomas's victory over Caffrey was the kind of debut most players dream about. Graham Davies did very well to beat Brian Kean, but probably a better performance was a three game loss to the very difficult Irish defender Thompson.

No Women For World's

On the basis of these matches, the Welsh Selectors found themselves unable to recommend the entering of women's team in the World Championships.

Graham Davies and Haydn Thomas were picked to go to Stockholm, and they will be joined by Robert Bishop, the Barry Junior with some first class results to his credit this season. With an average age of well before 20, this is the youngest side ever to represent Wales. Brian Everson has been chosen as non-playing captain.

The Welsh Closed, as expected, proved to be a field day for the older hands, mostly the holders.

Ron Davies retained his title with a hard and good day's play. He beat, amongst others, Robert Bishop, who is usually a "bogey man," and, in quite a good semi-final, Graham Davies In the final he registered another win over rival George Evans, who just escaped defeat by Alan Thomas in the semi-final then went Thomas in the semi-final, then went down, still making the pace, against Ron. Full marks to George, basically a defender some years ago, for his persistent attack, and full marks, too.

to Ron for his consistent form in a long and strenuous day.

The doubles went to George and Graham Gear, beating the well, tried team of Alan Thomas and Phil Bevan. although the latter will still want to know why they lost when holding a commanding lead in the third.

Margaret Phillips retained her singles title with a convincing win Morgan. Margare struggled for the first part of her semi-final with Elizabeth Gray, then came out well on top. Sandra Morgan bear Dorothy Attenborough in a game disappointing for the latter who had beaten Betty Gray in excellent style. Elizabeth Gray and Stella Jones took the women's doubles against Betty Gray and Margaret Jones, whilst George Evans and Margaret Phillips won with some ease in the mixed against Ron Davies and Dorothy Attenborough, who played Haydn Thomas beat his rival Robert Bishop, 19 in the third, in the boys' final, whilst Shan Morgan beat Sandra Bale in a girls' final significant for the improvement in these two.

The month saw a further coaching session for the best of the juniors from the Pontypool, Merthyr and Cardiff Sessions, and a visit to North Wales by the coaching committee, when a very large number of when promising players were given a long

Widespread Support

I feel sure there will be widespread support for the plea by Mr. Mannooch (Table Tennis News, February), for an English Junior Closed.

However, it may not be the wisest policy to add a full range of junior events to the existing Senior Closed championships, so I would suggest that a separate tournament, incorporiting as many events as appropriate. It should be held at the beginning of each season, both to determine the English Junier champions, and to prepare the English ranking list.

The present trials system is cumber-some, involving the time of officials

By COLIN CLEMETT

"The Descending Ball"

DURING the English Closed championships the N.U.R.C. enlisted the help of several players and umpires to carry out some experiments on the various proposals that have been made for modifying the service Law. Although the length of the experiments was limited by the commitments of those taking part some extremely valuable results were achieved and we now have a clear indication of the most promising line to pursue.

The ideas examined included all those contained in the circular issued by the I.T.T.F. at the beginning of the season, and the "descending ball" proposal that has since been proposed by several people. Of the original suggestions, it was found that two were basically unsatisfactory in not allowing clear and consistent interpretation. These were the requirements that the ball be projected vertically and that it be projected to shoulder height. The first of these was deleted from the service Law some seasons ago for the very reason that it was not possible for an umpire to judge whether the projection was exactly vertical, nor to specify clearly how much deviation from exactness could be allowed.

The second allows all sorts of interpretations of what is shoulder height; The second allows all sorts of interpretations of what is shoulder height; which shoulder and is the height to be measured when the player is standing erect or when he is crouched to serve and what happens if he raises his shoulder level by standing up during service? We felt that both these requirements created additional problems for the umpire and did not give any real advantage in controlling service. Similarly, the rather complicated proposal that the racket and the hand projecting the ball move in opposite directions was found almost impossible to interpret in a way that could be generally applied although this proposal more than any other is aimed specifically at preventing the type of service which is currently eausing most trouble. preventing the type of service which is currently causing most trouble.

The various requirements for the ball and the free hand to be clearly visible throughout the service action were found to be generally advantageous and we thought that it would be simple to frame a Law containing such a clause which would be unambiguous and easy to apply. In conjunction with a requirement for there to be clear space between the free hand and the ball at the moment of striking we consider that it would go a long way to overcoming the service problem, and you will remember that this was the basis of the N.U.R.C. proposals made earlier this season.

However, from the tests at Crystal Palace we believe that the simplest single measure that could be taken to improve the service Law is the limita-tion that the ball may be struck only while it is descending.

This proved easy for umpires to apply in a way which was clearly consistent and it virtually eliminated the unplayable service that is now made by throwing the ball rapidly across the face of the descending racket. There is a possible objection in that it may be considered too restricting, and we hope to conduct further trials, before the World Championships team leaves, to establish the views of more top-ranked players and officials. Subject to this reservation we think that a decision to introduce such a rule would put an end to the present confusion and discontent and would be welcomed by both players and umpires.

Finally this month, congratulations to six new National Umpires, L. J. Smith, A. J. Little and R. V. Milsted of Gloucestershire, L. A. Chatwin of Derbyshire, J. Sykes of Warwickshire and A. R. Broadrick of Middlesex. The inclusion of three members of one County is a tribute to the encouragement and training given by their C.U. Secretary, Mrs. Pat Archdale, one of our only two lady N.U.s. I am hoping in a later article to be able to reveal some of her coaching secrets, if I can persuade her to overcome her natural modesty!

and travel expenses of those who are selected for the final trials-a figure of approximately £100 borne by the E.T.T.A.

There is a considerable variation in the playing standards in the regions, as at present constituted, and the weakest players nominated for area trials are nowhere near the standard required in a ranked junior.

The junior selectors would also be given an opportunity to assess doubles merit, since the present system means that ranking has to be determined largely on singles performance.

As mid-season amendments to the ranking lists prepared in September or October take into account open tournament results as one of the chief factors for alterations, it seems logical to use an English Junior Closed championships as the main basis for the Junior ranking list.

Over To You

I agree with the temper of Norman Isbell's letter, in the December 1966 issue, in which he points out that a great number of players never enter tournaments and that after "Chester Barnes," names mean very little.

When the Association took over publication I looked forward to there being an interesting T.T. magazine at long last. However, it is the same old thing dressed up in larger pages. Given a choice between reading Table Tennis News and reading the London telephone directory, I reckon the great majority of people would choose the

No wonder circulation is poor!

I sent you an article on timing but so far it has not appeared. The article is probably the most important ever written respecting the matter of hitting a ball with a bat. But it was ignored. Instead, we have had articles about how to get fit. If people can't find out for themselves how to get fit, they need articles about how to test brains and where to go to have the tests done. In any case, when people can play well enough to stand a chance of winning big tournaments they will be sure to train. The idea that being fit and having guts and determination will ensure good play is wrong. What is wanted is really good instruction. I have attended a number of "instruction" sessions only to come away, as I feel sure did all the other pupils, as wise as I was before I went. We get "formalised" training but no insight. It is equivalent to "keep your head down" in golf lessons. Keep your head down as much as you like, but if you don't know the things you should really be doing, you are Also, we have had much space devoted to Services. If the pot hunters won't keep to the spirit of the game, don't hold the tournaments. To whose hanest is it to go to all the trouble to benefit is it to go to all the trouble to stage them? But there you are. What does one expect of table tennis players? I had an experience as follows: I handed out 20 booklets. The receivers agreed either to send the booklet back or send a small sum of money. Of the 20 people, only one did as promised. Obviously, the great majority are in the game for their own personal fame and nothing else.

Essex kept their slim hopes alive with this convincing win, and Surrey will need to beat Kent to stay up. Connie Warren seemed rather diffident against Stuart Gibbs but played very well against Chester Barnes. An excellent win by Michael Creamer over the fading Bobby Stevens.

Yorkshire 4, Middlesex 5

D. Neale bt B. Wright 15, 19; bt L Haslam 13, 15. M. Symonds lost to B. Wright 1-6, 19, -16; lost to A. Lindsay -14, -17. P. Duncombe bt L. Haslam 16, -12, 11; lost to A. Lindsay -14, -13. D. Wright and Miss K. Smith -18, 19.

A magnificent match played (despite its vital importance) in excellent spirit and enjoyed by a knowledgeable and appreciative crowd. Denis Neale undoubtedly the Yorkshire hero with two singles wins and the men's doubles—all in straight games. Middlesex trailed 17-18 in the first game of the mixed but took the next four points in superb rallies which had the crowd on its feet: the second was comfortable. Another men's doubles defeat for the visitors (only one win here all season) made the score 2-3, but Karenza Smith widened the Middlesex lead to Smith widened the Middlesex lead to 4-2 in a grand scrap with Cynthia Duncombe. Neale pulled back Yorkshire to 3-4 with his expected win over Wright and then a shock defeat for Les Haslam by Peter Duncombe brought the house down-4-all. But Alan Lindsay was in no model to let Alan Lindsay was in no mood to let Middlesex go home empty-handed and he never gave Mike Symonds a chance. An impressive match by Lindsay, and the match a credit to table tennis.

SECOND DIVISION (SOUTH)

Herts II 2, Sussex 8

The visitors well worth their win, with the bright spot for Herts being Brian Barr's narrow, but straight game, win over Roger Chandler.

Bedfordshire 1, Hampshire 9

Surrey II 9, Herts II 1

Promising senior debut by Surrey's who all her singles.

15-year-old Sandra Goldsmith. The experimental Herts team not disgraced in this match with the first four sets all needing three games

Bucks 1, Sussex 9

A match to remember for Alec Matter to remember for Alec Watson, with an expedite win over Sammy Ogundipe and a defeat by -18, 16, -20 at the hands of Roger Chandler. Jill Shirley did well to take the middle game from England No. 4 Judy Williams.

Kent II 5, Hampshire 5 Surrey II 7, Bedfordshire 3

Surrey continue to climb up the table after their bad start with this win over Bedfordshire, who have not won since October 1963.

SECOND DIVISION (NORTH) Lincolnshire 6, Yorkshire II 4

SECOND DIVISION (MIDLAND)

Derbyshire 7, Oxfordshire 3 Another creditable all-round performance by the Derbyshire team

Nottinghamshire 0, Warwickshire 10 Alf Saunders worried both Derek Backhouse and Ralph Gunnion, losing -16, 23, -18 to the former and -19, 19, -15 to the latter. But Warwicks too strong.

Staffordshire 7, Monmouth 3

SECOND DIVISON (WEST) Cornwall 9, Wiltshire 1

A useful win by Cornwall particularly as they had to reorganise in the women's events. This revealed that although Sheila Rapsey is a steady doubles player she is not yet ready to take over the singles. Dick Clode taken ill during his first singles and did not play his best: poor Wiltshire — everything seems against them this season.

Dorset 1, Somerset 9

Worcestershire 7, Devon 3
The inconsistent Worcs team on top form, killing Devon's title hopes. Mick Hawkins, Ray Lush and John Pugh took six sets, and their women notched a good doubles win. Pam PREMIER DIVISION Mortimer has, however, lost little of her touch, and swiftly put an end to Joyce Lloyd's unbeaten run.

SOUTHERN DIVISION

Bucks II 6, Oxfords II 4

Unexpectedly trailing 1-3 Bucks hit back to maintain their 100% record. Michael Close again in command.

Hampshire II 8, Worcesters II 2

With the visitors taking by narrow margins two of the first three sets a a hard struggle promised. But despite four more sets needing the deciding game Worcs could not maintain their early form.

Hampshire II 6, Bucks II 4

Trailing 0-3, Hants hit back and go to the top of the division with this win. All on the last match with John Pothercary gaining an exciting win over W. Barnett (who had earlier beaten the new Hants champion Bill Moulding.

Oxfords II 1, Berkshire 9

Berkshire's Duncan Campbell, in fine form at the moment, inspired his team to give their best performance of the season. Only in the women's doubles, where Mrs. Wotherspoon hit a few winners at the right time, were Oxfords able to stop the one way

MIDLAND DIVISION

Staffords II 7, Derbys II 3

Warwicks II 3, Lancashire II 7

Defeats for Graham Binney and Derek Baddeley at 20 in the third in the first two sets gave Lancs the edge and lost Warwicks a draw. Young Brian Mitchell, surely one of the visitors' brightest hopes, did not shine this time losing all three sets.

EASTERN DIVISION

Cambridgeshire 8, Huntingdonshire 2 Norfolk 4, Leicestershire 6

The vital match for this division, with Leicestershire (returning to the Championships after some seasons in the wilderness) recovering from 2-4 to clinch the match and promotion. The turning point for the visitors was Charles Jacques fine win by 22, -17, 19 over Alan Coby — Coby's first singles defeat for three seasons.

JUNIOR DIVISION SOUTH Buckinghamshire 7, Kent 3

Every Bucks player rose to the occasion to give the home County their first Junior title. A fine girls doubles win by Jill Shirley and Susan Pacitto turned the tide and Bucks ran out to take a 6-1 lead. Much credit to Michael Wald, undefeated in singles or doubles, and Jill Shirley the sets going to three. Great enthusiasm by the home team, who after five hard and enjoyable matches asked their captain to arrange practice for next season so they can make sure of their places. Very encouraging news, this, for Leics, as all four players in this match have two more junior seasons. Ivor Billson and Susan Baxter unbeaten in all mixed

JUNIOR DIVISION EAST

Cambridgeshire 5, Hertfordshire 5

Paul Harmer's sets conceded arrived too early and could not stay! Herts chances of taking the division seriously shaken.

Suffolk 2, Hertfordshire 8 Essex 7. Middlesex 3

Only stern action by Essex umpire Dick Frost stopped the match becoming a display of bad manners. His team then rallied from 2-3, a position they had not expected to find themselves in. A draw with Herts is now enough. Both Karenza Smith and Keith Lawrence sat this one out.

SPURS LOSE!

FIGURE who has been seen at A almost every tournament this season is London's Paul Beck, an enthusiastic all-rounder whose game is quickly improving. This student, rather limited in funds, hitch-hikes to every tournament. It says much for his determination, not to mention his persuasive manner that he has never been scratched from a tournament for late (or non) arrival.

Apart from his love for table tennis he is a keen Tottenham Hotspur supporter. The lure to attend Open Tournaments, however, is greater than the temptation to visit White Hart Lane.

Well done, here's to many more lifts and before long a prize or two

PHYSICAL FITNESS IN TABLE TENNIS by David H. Stanley Third Article

AST month fartlek training, skip- Personally I find no negative transfer, ping and shadow table tennis were discussed. Many players, no doubt, would not enjoy training by these methods, so this month more enjoyable means of gaining fitness for table tennis will be related.

Personally I find no negative transfer, but it is a very personal thing depending on the amount of control you possess over your physical movements.

enjoyaoie means of gaining fitness for table tennis will be related.

An all round form of training can be gained by participating in other games and sports especially those which call for frequent reversal of movement and split second decisions. Indeed the Russian national table tennis squad set aside one day a week plus half an hour every practice session for general physical conditioning which they do through gymnastics, acrobats, cross-country running and other athletic events.

The other sports can provide a relief from practice, a chance to broaden your social circle, and some of them enable you to be out in the fresh air, which can help a great deal in your training. Two sessions a week on any of the following activities would be most beneficial to your physical condition: Basketball (Netball for the girls), Volleyball, Athletics (all aspects), Gymnastics, Soccer and Hockey. By combining two of the latter the quality of Balance, Flexibility, Agility, Strength, Power and Stamina can all be improved.

Tennis and squash, which is even more suitable, might also fit the same bill, but you must be wary of these games because negative transfer often occurs i.e. your stroke production or timing in table tennis is affected as a result—if so, you obviously do not developing sy want to participate in these games. shortest time.

Swimming is also an excellent form of developing all round fitness, and you can dismiss all the old theories that it is detrimental to racket game will affect performance if you try to play immediately after you have been swimming, because your muscles will be relaxed. But if you go swimming two or three hours before your table tennis session, or immediately after, you will find it an excellent way to increase your flexibility, strength and endurance.

You might think that these activities will take up a good deal of time that could be better spent practising at the table; but if you can arrange to have three nights good practice a week, say a two-hour period each time, or an hour each lunch time, with another six hours practice at convenient times, this should be ample practice. The rest of your time you can arrange for your training, which is essential because nearly all champions have technique developed to their personal limits, and therefore the winner is found among those with added extras -mental approach, confidence and physical fitness.

Next month I will deal with circuit training which is an ideal way of developing specialised fitness in the a shock first round defeat at the hands of Brian Wright who subsequently bowed out in the next round to Johan Borzsei of Hungary.

A second West German to go early was Martin Ness whose conqueror was Stuart Gibbs but, like Wright, he failed in the very next round, to Korpa

Saddest blow to England's cause, however, was struck by Ireland's Jim Langan who basked in the glory of a 3-straight win over Chester Barnes

But, alas, Langan suffered the same fate as England's Wright and Gibbs - out in the next round, 3-straight to Borzsei.

Of England's World Championships team only Denis Neale reached the quarters. His run was achieved at the expense of Laurie Landry, Keith Lawrence and a gripping win over Hungary's Mathias Beleznai. Finalist Istvan Korpa then struck down the Yorkshireman but even the Yugoslav, of the tremendous fore-arm smashes, could not hit his way through Jaroslav Stenek in the final.

Granted the Czech dropped the first game, his only one of the event, but from then on Korpa fought a losing battle. Best resistance to the winner was put up by Mike Johns who really excelled with scores of -20, -21, -19 against the new champion. Stout stuff, indeed!

No joy either for England's men in the doubles with Barnes/Neale going out in the semi-final to winners Miko/Stanek. Gibbs/ Harrison had gone in the quarters to Borzsei/Rozsas, the latter player touching peak form

Best performance put up by an Englishman in this event was that of Peter Duncombe in partnership with Wolfgang Lieck, the Anglo/ German pairing having a tremendous game against the eventual winners. Roger Chandler and Roy Morley had a good run, their best win being against the Anglo/Dutch partnership of Bert Onnes and Brian Wright but it was the formidable Czechs Miko/Stanek who proved their undoing.

As with Barnes/Neale in the men's, so with Mary and Karenza in the women's doubles. Through to the semi-finals and no further beaten, 3-straight, by Eva Koczian and Erzsebet Jurik.

ANOTHER FINAL

Another final was reached, howwhen Barnes and Mary Wright, with notable wins over Langan / Mihalca and Stanek / Pauknerova, contested the last ditch against Miko/Luzova. The second game was all that the English pair could take from the Czech pairing which is so very, very good.

One could feel immensely satisfied with the performances of England's women but Johnny Leach has an unenviable task during the next few weeks in bringing the men's squad up to the concert pitch that will be demanded of them in Stockholm.

First class was the oranisation at Brighton and although many qualify for laurel wreaths in respect of victorious administration, none more so than John Wright, the Referee.

Junior Events at English Open as seen by Laurie Landry VICTORIES FOR LAWRENCE & RESLER

IN the first round of the Boys' Denise could make no impression tors were in action. There were two from Australia and two from Ireland and Frankenberg and Pinkewich of Australia made easy meat of Dabin (Kent) and Bowles (Essex) respectively. Whilst Frankenberg was able to play an allround game, Pinkewich, not yet 16 years old, showed remarkable control as a rubber bat defensive Pinkewich had Bowles completely tied up forcing him into errors. The Irish boys, McAllister and O'Neill, also won, but O'Neill dropped a game to the unranked Tommy Wald.

The next round had a lot of excitement with Trevor Taylor and Paul Pinkewich providing most of it. Trevor, whose game up to the present is not based on a big hit, which is hardly surprising for a 14 year-old, found himself 5 points in arrears in the first game being unable to hit through his opponent's wonderful defence, so he settled down to consistent top-spin, pick-ing out the ones to hit and won

In the second, playing the same sort of game, time was called at 15-12 to Trevor but his inexperience made him almost give it away at 21-17, under the expedite rule, for the remaining points. The third game, played entirely under the rule was really exciting, with the server rarely winning his point. Paul had a couple of break-throughs at 8-5 and again later in the game but otherwise it was level. Pinkewich led 20-19 and Trevor 21-20 before the English boy came through at 23-21.

Frankenberg had quite a good game with the fifth-ranking Mit-chell and it looked like nervousness lost Mitchell the initiative in the third game.

Pat Glynn trounced O'Neill and Paul Harmer dropped a game to McAllister, to settle the Irish chances whilst Michael Wald upset rankings when he beat Brian Keates. It was Michael's ability to vary his play that won him this

In the quarter-finals, Lawrence had a comfortable victory over Frankenberg whilst second and third seeds, Talyor and Munt, also got to the semis in straight games. It was fourth seeded Paul Judd who fell to unseeded Michael Wald. Quick hits mingled with chop defence, unsettled Judd, who got only 11 in the decider.

So to the semis where Munt lost his usual battle with Lawrence, after levelling, and Wald could make no impression on Taylor. Lawrence won, at last, avenging four recent defeats at the hands of Taylor and it was the one to go into the record books. On this occasion Lawrence was too fast.

The Boys' doubles was won by the Warwickshire players, Munt and Judd, who beat Frankenberg and Pinkewich, in straight games, in the final.

The Girls' singles went to the only entry from the Continent, Mirjana Resler, a 14 year-old from Yugoslavia. In the first round she young Surrey girl.

The other entry from abroad, Denise Gavros of Australia, beat Marjorie Walker in rather a scrappy game with neither player forceful enough to make the running.

singles, all the foreign competi- on Maureen Heppell in the next round. At this stage also Linda Henwood tried her luck with Resler and despite the fact that Linda got an early lead, by leaving her opponent standing with a wide shot to the forehand, it was Resler's overall consistency that had won her the match.

In the semi-finals came the big shock of the Junior events when Judy Heaps, playing extremely well, matched Karenza Smith hit for hit and her greater power won the day. Whilst Karenza was quite obviously tired from her efforts in the senior events, this does not detract from Judy's wonderful performance.

In the other semi, Resler was too good for Maureen Heppell who played very well and tried to play the right sort of game to win but was not quite consistent enough when it came to the hitting. In the meantime, the consolation events were continuing and both Resler and Heaps getting through also to this final, had become very tired. It seemed to affect Judy rather more than Resler for she seemed unable to keep the ball really short on service and get in first with the hit and thereby dictate the run of play. When it came to angling deep down the forehand, wide of Resler's flashing hit, this invariably went off. So the title went to the Continent.

A short time later, Judy again played Resler, in the consolation final, and lost very closely in the

The Girls' doubles went to Marjorie Walker and Mirjana Resler. Resler had taken Jill Shirley's place in the draw as Jill had had her tonsils out. These two got the better of the top seeds Heaps and Henwood. In the Junior Mixed the surprise was the defeat of Judd and Marjorie Walker by Alan Norman and Ruth Wilson of Kent, who were unable to repeat the treatment on Lawrence and Henwood in the final. A very good performance was that of Brennan and Susan Howard of Surrey when they took a game from Lawrence and Henwood and had them worried for a while in the third.

After watching these championships, the Junior position for next season would appear very good, for we will still have three of the top five girls and five of the top nine boys. Two of next season's boys and two of the girls reached the semi-finals of the singles events.

JIM FORREST — AN APPRECIATION

His many friends in the table tennis world will be shocked to learn of the sudden death of Jim Forrest, Secretary of Wandsworth since 1953 and Surrey Press Officer for the past twelve years. Jim, who was unmarried, was a tireless worker for the game and was invariably ready and willing to do all the tedious and unglamorous jobs that are so important a part of table tennis organisation. At any County event, from Premier division match to League knock-out tournament, Jim was sure to be there working in the background to keep things running smoothly, with no thought of personal glory. It is significant and fitting that he was working for table tennis right up to the moment of his death, which occurred after he had collapsed on his way to officiate at a County second team match. He will be sadly missed as a colleague and friend.

Hon. General Secretary Surrey T.T. Association
